

Angeles Alvarez Secord, MD, MHSc, earned her medical degree from the University of Washington and completed her residency and fellowship at Duke University, where she is now a Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology. She serves as Associate Director of Clinical Research in Gynecologic Oncology and leads clinical trials focused on ovarian and endometrial cancer. A nationally recognized leader, Dr. Secord is the current President of the Society of Gynecologic Oncology. She also founded a national endometrial cancer research consortium supported by a $1M Kay Yow Cancer Fund/V Foundation grant. Her work blends surgery, chemotherapy, and compassionate care to support women across the continuum of cancer treatment.